Chief Executive Officer

Dorchester, MA

Harvard Street Neighborhood Health Center (HSNHC) is seeking a Chief Executive Officer (CEO) to lead the organization through a period of growth and change.

Reporting to the Board of Directors, the CEO will provide operational leadership to the organization and will work with the Board in setting strategic direction. The CEO will be accountable for the Harvard Street Neighborhood Health Center's overall management and performance. The next CEO of HSNHC will have the opportunity to be a true leader in guiding the organization to the next step in its evolution. This is a building opportunity, not a turn-around.

The next CEO will be Masters prepared and have led an FQHC or comparable organization through growth, including planning and development of a new building. The next CEO will have strong managerial skills with a demonstrated ability to inspire and build high performing, collaborative teams. The CEO will help strengthen the Board and cultivate trust, open communication and collaboration with key stakeholder groups including private and public organizations, public officials at all levels of government, the academic, business and medical communities and the communities that the health center serves.

HSNHC is a thriving organization that recently achieved FQHC certification and PCMH recognition from the NCQA. With annual revenue approaching $10 million, about 85 employees, and about 7,000 patients with 33,000 patient encounters annually, the organization is operating at a surplus and looking forward to growth. Development and construction of a new building in the coming years is strongly desired. The culture of HSNHC is patient-centric and strives for quality care. The atmosphere is warm, accepting, and receptive to change and development. For more information see www.harvardstreet.org.
